

AIT-BEN- HADDOU - OUARZAZATE

ONE DAY EXCURSION FROM 7 AM TO 7 PM

About 30 kilometers before Ouarzazate, is located Ait – Ben - Haddou a UNESCO World Heritage site since 1987 and a majestic example of South Moroccan architecture. This once important city, on the caravan route between the Sahara desert and the city of Marrakech, during the last few years has become a significant historical site and a very popular touristic destination.

The surrounding landscape is breathtaking and every minute spent here is worth it. It's for this reason that several films have been shot there, including Lawrence of Arabia. The city of Ouarzazate lies in the southern part of Morocco. It derives its name from a Berber phrase meaning « without noise » or « without confusion »: it offers an extraordinary mixture of oasis, kashbahs and lush valleys and it's the perfect starting point for tourists on their way to the Sahara Desert.
